UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT-IN EQUITY. Jay Gould and the English Shareholders

Could and Litigation.

rday a subpossa from the United States Circuit Court red upon Jay Gould, at the Eric Railway office and House, commanding him to appear to-day before Mr. th G. White, the Master, and testify. It is understood Kenneth G. White, the Master, and testify. It is understood that Mr. Gould's testimony, if he should attend (and, possibly, he may not do so), will be directed as to what has become of the books of the Eric Railway Company, which were the subject of the inquiry reported so fully in the HERALD of yesterday. Heath and Raphael, the English shareholders, are most anxious to find out where these books are, as they slaim that their production would throw much light upon the transactions of Eric in regard to those 60,084 shares of Eric steek, the history of which has been so repeatedly written and published.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONERS' COURT.

Charge Against a Sea Captain.

Before Commissioner Shields.

The United States vs. Mahoney.—The defendant had been accused or cruelly heating a seaman, named Timothy Hayes, on board the ship Victor. The case had been postponed for the attendance of the government witnesses, who were not present at the last sealon, neither were they present yesterday. The Commissioner therefore discharged the defendant.

Sult Growing Out of Seizure of a Vessel and Claims for Services, Official and Unofficial, of a United States Consul.

Claims for Services, Official and Unofficial, of a United States Cousul.

Before Judge Freedman.

Ferdinand Fassaut ve. James Muphy.—In January, 1858, the ship Townsend Jones cleared from this port for Valparalso and other ports on the Pacido Ocean, with a cargo consisting of arms and munitions of war, the ship as claimed, being owned by the defendant, and under the charge of Joseph Janvrin as master. The cargo was to be sold at Valparaiso if possible, and, failing in this, was to be taken to other markets till a market could be found. A letter of instructions and nower of attorney was given to Janvrin by the defendant to this effect. Among the instructions it is claimed that he was sutherized, if any difficulty should arise in disposing of the cargo, to apply to the minister or consult of the United States at such port, or to officers of any United States anaval vessel at such port, for such assistance and protection as he might require. The vessel went to Valparaiso, and soon after her arrival was selzed, together with the cargo, by the Chican government, on the ground that bringing such a cargo muo one of their ports was in violation of the laws of the republic of Chile. Directly following the seixure Mr. Janvrin laid the facts before Garrett W. Ryckman, United States Vice Consult at Valparaiso, and employed him in his collicial capacity to assist him. For the services thus rendered Mr. Ryckman presented his bill, amounting to $368 78. Mr. Jaavrin did not happen to have this amount of money, and so gave a promisory-note for the sum, the Vice Consul claiming meantime that he would pay from his own pocket this amount to the United States overnment as government fees. In addition to this it is also alleged that Mr. Ryckman performed unofficial services for Mr. Janvrin on account of the seisure of the vessel, and for which services the latter argues he should be paid $5,000, and a coverant was drawn up to this effect. Neither of these sums, it is stated, has been paid, and the present incourt, expecting to be ca

BROOKLYN COURTS.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.

Before Judge Benedict. he plaintiffs brought suit against the defendant, who is costmaster of the Eastern District, to recover $5,000 damages laimed to be due under the following circumstances:—Durelained to be due under the following ofreumstances:—During the trial it appeared that they had been sending ofreulars about the country, setting forth that they could sell dry goods cheaper than the market prices. They had various firm names, such as Chapman & Co., Kohl & Co., &c., and it was charged that they did not always sand the goods upon receiving remitiances. Numerous complaints having been made to the Postmaster, that official wrote to the Postmaster General for instructions as to what he should do with the latters that might some to the office in future. He was orecred to hold them, and he did so. Hence this action. The Court decided in favor of the defendant.

SUPREME COURT-TRIAL TERM Important Real Estate Transaction.

Before Judge Glibert. Fargard Kenny vs. Bartholomene L. Lynch.—This case, which tracted considerable attention from the position of the par-lies involved—Mr. Edward Kenny, the plaintiff's husband, through whom the affair was transacted, being an old and well known resident in South Brooklyn, and Mr. Lynch, the defendant, having been Attorney General of the State of through whom the affair was transacted, being an old and well known resident in South Brooklyn, and Mr. Lynch, the defendant, baving been Attorney General of the State of Louisiana.

The suit was brought to recover the amount of a promiseory note for $5,000 made by the defendant, payable on March 1, 1870, to Mr. Kenny or order, and by him transferre of through a third party to his wife, the present plaintiff.

For the defence it was claimed that the note was procured from the defendant under the following circumstances:—In the first west of August, 1890, Mr. Lynch and Mr. Itahn, ex-Governor of Louisiana, were in the city of New York on a visit. The latter, in conjunction with Kenny, had, in April, 1962, bought some lots may Prospect Park, Brook, 1972. Hahn and Lynch were to see those lots, and on the city of the season of the city of the lots, which Hahn had already bought Kenny spoke of the lots, which Hahn had already bought Kenny spoke of the lots, which Hahn had already bought Kenny spoke of the lots which Hahn had already bought Kenny spoke of the lots which Hahn had already bought Kenny spoke of the lots with the lots which Hahn had already bought Kenny spoke of the lots with the lots which Hahn had already bought Kenny spoke of the lots and Mr. Kenny was to take the remaining seven and make the purchase for them. On the following day Hahn paid Kenny $6,000 as his part of the purchase money and Lynch paid him $1,000, and in September of the same specified lots at $1,500 each. On the Pth September, a few days atterwards, the plaintiff delivered to Lynch a full warranty deed of these lots and received from him the note in suit in payment of $8,000. The best day Lynch as full warranty deed of these lots and received from him the note in suit in payment of $8,000 the balance of the purchase money. The defendant nov claims that Mr. Kenny, while acting as his agent in the purchase of these lots, was really the owner of the partner in Percence of the purchase money of the partner in Percence to the lots in quest

Amother Concested Will.

Refore Judge Gilbert.

Fred. Baker vs. Amelio Dederky.—This is a sult to test the alidity of a will alleged to have been made by Catharine Ahrens, mother of defendant, who died in Brooklyn on the 7th of January, 1870. aged seventy-six years. The will bequesthed only $100 to defendant, $500 each to two nieces, and the balance of the property to Baker, her nephew, the plaintiff in this suit. The Surrogate declared the will to be null and totd, on the grounds that it was not executed and attended in the manner prescribed by law for the execution and attended to the insurance prescribed by law for the execution and attended to of last will and testaments; that the optimist of instrument were unknown to the testatrix at the time of its execution, and that the execution was obtained by under induscoces practised upon her.

An apply was taken to the General Term of the Supreme Court, which tribunal reversed the Surrogate's decision, and critically will be the same of the country of Kings on the Sake day of March, 1870, duly executed?

B. Was Catharine Ahrena, at the time of executing the said instrument, of sound and disposing mind and understanding, and in all respects competent to devise and bequeath real and personal property?

B. Were she contents of said instrument known to the said Catharine Ahrena the time of its execution?

Did the subscribing witnesses, Philip P. Kinkel And Thill P. Kinkel, Jr., or either of them, subscribe and bequeath real and personal property?

The defendant claims that Baker, who is a lawyer, exercised under induced the signature to the will. Gas still on.

POLICE KILLING.

Officer Toomey Convicted of Manslaughter in the Fourth Degree-Sentence Postponed Till Friday.

the Fourth Degree—Sentence Postponed Till Friday.

The trial of Patrick Toomey, an officer of the Fourth precinct, charged with the homicide of John Murphy on the 4th of March, was resumed yesterday, in the General Sessions, before Recorder Hackett.

CONTINUATION OF THE TESTIMONY.

Dr. Sproat was the first witness called by District Attorney Garvio, who testified that on the morning of Sunday, the 4th of March, he was called to the station house; upon arriving there he found young Murphy dead, although his body was not cold. The doctor examined the body, and found no external marks of violence upon it.

Bergeant Kelly, who was in command at the Fourth precinct when Murphy was brought in by the officers, said that he left the desk and looked at the deceased, whose face was then cold and his eyes closed. He sent for Dr. Sproat, what arrived in fifteen minutes. The sergeant told the doctor that some assertions were made that Murphy had been clubbed, and he wanted him to make a thorough examination. Toomey was an officer of the Fourth precinct, and had been in the service about two years.

Cross-examined—When officer Toomey brought Murphy in he stated that he Murphy had been drunk and disorderly; that he first heard some words between Broderick and Murphy in Catharine street; shortly affer the party passed up Catharine street; shortly affer the party passed up Catharine street, and Murphy crossed over to the Fourth precinct side; Toomey pushed him off and told him to go home about his business; he turned back and used defiant and abusive language, and he (Toomey ran after him, but, being drunk, when he got to the sidewalk he fell headlong; Murphy was picked up and brought to the station house. The MEDICAL TESTIMONY.

THE MEDICAL TESTIMONY.

Dr. Wooster Beach was the next witness. He testified that he made a post-mortem examination of the body of Murphy in the station house about the middle of the day on Sunday. No marks of violence were found, except a very alight mark of extravasation on the left side of the brain greed with Dr. Beach when he said the condition of the stomach did not materially hasten the chances of death.

This closed the case for the people.

Mr. Anthon opened briefly and called John Robinson, an expressman; Peter Raferty, James McCallrey and John W. Abbott, a newspaper man, all of whom were passing through Catharine and other streets early on Sunday morning and who saw a portion of the transaction. Their statements were substantially the same, the main fact established being that they followed the officers who were carrying Murphy to the corner where they placed him in the wagon, and up to that the they did not see officer Tootney strike the deceased with his cith. These witnesses saited that the young men who passed up Caharina street were singing "Champagne Charity," and officer Broderick told the "some of b—best to stop their damned noise." They contradicted Broderick, by saying that they saw him two a bottle that night, by saying that they saw him two claims a bottle that night, by saying that they saw him two claims were sworn to show the trevious good character of the accused for quietness. Roundsmen Melley and Sorgeant Snyder, of the Fourth predict, also stated that they always found him to be a faithful dicter.

Mr. Anthon then made a brief but able and along them.

Mr. Anthon then made a brist but able and eloquent argument upon the testimony, claiming that it was insufficient to show that Toomey did any wrong act. He maintained that as there were no marks of violence upon the body of Murphy it was highly probable that, in the condition of his stomach from the effects of intoxication, his fall upon the sidewalk uppersiduced his death. His Honey lightly the sidewalk uppersiduced his death. 263. 646.

REAL ESTATE MATTERS.

The attendance at the Real Estate Exchange Salesrooms yesterday was large, the bidding spirited and rices realized good. There seems to be, however, little disposition for purchasing city real estate as a speculation. Those buying property at the sales in the Exchange Rooms have of late been persons intending to occupy the property so purchased. For houses and lots on the line of proposed improvements good prices have as a rule been obtained. For city real estate in general, however, the prices realized have been but moderate. Above Twenty-third street the value of real estate has steadily increased. Along the cline of the Broadway widening in particular prices have advanced rapidly, and large purchases have been made at private sale. The auction sales show a decided preference for property adjoining the line of the proposed improvements, property in the neighborhood of Broadway and Central Park showling especially much appreciation. The following ever, little disposition for purchasing city real estate ing especially much appreciation. THE GOVERNMENT PURCHASE OF BONDS.

The GOVERNMENT FORCHASE OF 800 B.

The Treasury Department bought $3,000,000 of five-twenties to-day, in accordance with the April programme. The offerings were only $6,391,500, at 110.40 a 110.90. The accepted lots cost 110.40 a 110.59½. Gold at the same time was 111½. GOVERNMENTS HIGHER AND FIRM.

The government list opened heavy, in consequence of the Congressional resolution proposing to limit the annual reduction of the debt to $25,000,000, but, after the comparatively small offerings of bonds at the Sub-Treasury, became strong and active, with a considerable rise in prices, which was maintained to the close of street busiwhich was maintained to the close of street business, when the quotations were:—United States currency sixes, 115½; a 115½; do. sixes, 1831, registered, 116½ a 117½; do. do., coupon, 117 a 117½; do. dive-twenties, registered, May and November, 110½ a 110½; do. do., 1862, coupon, do., 113¼ a 113½; do. do., 113¼ a 113½; do. do., 183½; do. do., 183½; do. do., 183½; do. do., 1865, coupon, do., 113½ a 113½; do., do., 1865, do., do., 113½ a 113½; do., do., 1865, do., do., 113½ a 113½; do., do., 1865, do., do., 113½; do., do., 1867, do., do., 113½; do., do., 1867, do., do., 113½; pop, do., 112% a 112%; do. do., 1867, do. do., 112% a 112%; do. do. 1808, do. do., 112% a 113; do. tenforties, registered, 108% a 109; do. do., coupon, 109% GOLD STRONG-111% A 111%.

The bull movement in the Gold Room made fur-ther progress in connection with the large export of specie, which reached $1,630,000, thereby exceeding even the amount reported last evening as engaged. The first quotation, 111%, at the beginning of business was made by the announcement of the failure of a small firm operating on the "bear" side for whose account gold was bought in "under the rule." It seems their transactions had been very rashly conducted, their whole capital being absorbed by a rise of one per cent in the gold premium. After these purchases gold fell off to 111½ and settled at about 111½ until late in the afternoon, when, upon rumors of further heavy shipments to-morrow and on Saturday, it advanced to 111½. The oversold condition of the market is exhibited in the searcity of cash gold, which was to be had at not better than "flat," and commanded, in most instances, a consideration ranging from 1 per cent per annum to 1-32 per diem. The last mentioned rate is equivalent to about 10 per cent per annum. The chief fluctuations were

THE OVER-ISSUE OF ERIE STOCK. The formal acknowledgment to the Stock Exchange of an over-issue of Erie shares was the subject of a special private session this afternoon of the Governing Committee, who will probably make their report to the Stock Exchange to-morrow. As the new issue was made without the preliminary thirty-days' notice required by the regulations of the Board, it is thought that the Governing Committee will recommend that Erie be stricken from the list of securities dealt in at the Stock Exchange. ALLEGED HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

A pugnacious looking individual named Samuel Purdy was arraigned before Justice Fullen, at Morrisania, West-chester county, yesterday, for having, as a slieged, assaulted and robbed one James McCorey, at Mott Haven, during last October. It is charged in the complaint that Purdy, after knocking down the complainant and tearing his clothes, rifed his pockets of $100. The accused at once left the neighborhood in order to avoid arrest, and on returning a few days ago was "nailed" by the liferiem police. After an examination Purdy was committed in default of $1,000 ball to await the scalion of the Grand Jury. The complainant was held to ball in a similar amount for his appearance as a wilness in the case.

Continuation of the Testimony for the Contestants—Potatory Developments.

The contest over the McCahili will case was resumed yesterday before Surrogate Hutchings. There was the usual large attendance of the friends of the contestants and proponents in court. A more than ordinary interest—considering the status deceased held in society while living—attaches to this case, from the fact that the parties, contestants and defendants, are well known to a numerous circle of friends, and that the deceased was a very prominent citizen of the Mineteanth ward. Wealth and station cannot always monopolise public interest. In most instances they do, and certainly in these it is better that they should have the monopoly of public sensation. Now and again, however, in humbler life, a case will arise as rite with public and general interest as that which takes its origin in a different sphere. The Bryan McCahill case may not be one of these. That is of great public interest; but, as we said before, it is one that is as dear and important to the home circle in which the scene ites as any that has preceded it in the very many scenes that have of late passed in the Surrogate's Court.

The contestants are represented by most able coursel in before, it is one that is as dear and important to the home circle in which the scene lies as any that has preceded it in the very many scenes that have or late passed in the Surrogate's Court.

The contestants are represented by most able counsel in Mesars. Edwards Pierrepont and John Fianagan; the proponents by Hall, Brown & Vanderpoel.

THE TESTIMONY.

The first witness catled was Mr. James Sexion, who testified that he knew Bryan McCahili for about twenty years; within the last four years of his life knew him minimately, and saw him about once or twice a week; in his last sickness went to his room until about tweive days before his death; taked with him about his will; I was with him one evening and he said, "Will you come down to-morrow; I want you to read my will?" I did so. I read the will and asked him if he understood it, and he said: "Yes," and think I asked him if the will was satisfactory; he said "No," but that if well enough he would make it all right in the morrhing; Braty atterwards took this will, as he said, to Father Mc-Mahon; the coddel to that will was certainly not to the will which I read to the decassed, the will read to the decassed, the will read to the decassed was executed; the will now shown I can't say was the will I read to him or not; I saw decased the day after the drawing up of this will; next day he was very low; he was in the hisbit of drinking thuor, and had made several wills and added codicils to them; the will that was drawn up according to the will, uncert day he was very low; he was in the hisbit of drinking thuor, and had made several wills and added codicils to them; the will that was drawn up according to the house, and gave her the third of the estate; the will do not know in whose had seen these it was read to him, and the said res; cannot say whether this is the same will or not; the reading of the will was read to deceased by sections, and I saked him if he unierstood it as it was read to him, and he said res; cannot say whether this is the same will or not; the seven times when he was drunk and unable to walk safely hitsself; saw others take him home drunk on several occasions.

John Noonan, a bartender, testified to the deceased's large and daily potations at Carroll's saloon; saw him drink gin, whiskey, brandy and sometimes champagne; saw him drunk very often within the two years he knew him and up to within a short time of his death.

Dr. Madox was for some three or four years attending deceased; prescribed morphine for him as a nervine; if would have saved a man nervosity affected as well as a man affected through drink.

John McEvoy, nephew of the testator by marriage, testified that James Brady came to the room where deceased was confined by sickness, with some papers, one morning snortly before his death; Brady, soon after entering, told witness to leave the room, which he did; deceased was then very low, and an attendant was necessary to help him up and down; at the end of about the minutes witness returned to the room; later in the atternoon Pat Carroll, Jim Brady, M. Monaghan and the Englishman—the person who drew the will—came to the room where Bryan McCabili lay sick; they then helped deceased out of bed, and he signed his name to the will and they then signed their names; Bryan McCabili had been drinking whisky and gin and other drinks during the day, and about the signing of the paper he was just getting drunk; he was drinking a good deal during the day and every five or seven minutes he would ask for a fresh drink; he probably took twenty or twenty-five drinks during the day and every five or seven minutes he would ask for a fresh drink; he probably took twenty or twenty-five drink during the day and every five or seven minutes he would ask for a fresh drink; he probably took twenty or twenty-five drink during the day and every five or seven minutes he would and there would not be a drop of it in the morning.

Q. Might it not have been taken away from him before he had drank it all? A. Ne, sir; you could not cheat him that way. Case adjourned till this morning at half-past ten o'clock.

THE ST. PATRICK'S DAY MU DER.

Official Investigation-Verdict Against Two Parties.

Coroner Schirmer investigated yesterday the circum stances stiending the death of Edward Reilly, as alleged stances stending the death of Edward Reilly, as alleged from injuries received on the evening of St. Patrick's Day, in Second avenue, near Fortieth street, by having been severely beaten. It appeared that on the night in question decased left his bearding house, 40l East Fortveighth street, about three o'clock, and was then under the influence of liquor. He returned the next morning and had three cuts of liquor. He returned the next morning and had three cuts of liquor. He returned the next morning and had three cuts of liquor. He returned the next morning and had three the parties are rected; he complained of his head; could not walk without assistance; he left on April 9 for Bellevue Hospital; he admitted that he had been beaten before he left for the bespital.

admitted that he had been beaten before he lost for the hospital.

The modical testimony showed that death was caused by serious effuelo upon the brain, the result of alcoholam or violence, or both.

The jury rendered a verdict to this effect, and they believed that the injuries received at the hands of Michael Hart and Patter Developing accelerated his death.

A warrant was issued for the series of Hart, and Devereux was held to beat in $1,000 to await the action of the order.
